Celebrate Pride with Every Sip

Pride month is the perfect time to enjoy LGBT-made wines or visit LGBT-owned wineries.

Every month is Pride month, but June is officially LGBT Pride Month, dedicated to the celebration of the LGBT community. As a wine lover, you can celebrate LGBT Pride by visiting these LGBT-owned wineries or sip wines made by these LGBT winemakers. Happy Pride! Here are our suggestions.

Gary Farrell Winery

Gary Farrell had been making wine in the Russian River Valley even before the American Viticultural Area (AVA) was officially designated. The brand has now been crafting high-quality Pinot Noir and Chardonnay from the Russian River AVA for over 40 years. Theresa Heredia, who identifies as LGBT and Latina, has been involved in Gary Farrell's winemaking for over a decade and most recently shifted her role to Consulting Winemaker, as she started her own winemaking consulting firm with Heredia Wine Consulting. Tasting experiences start at $55 per person and can include a wine tasting and even a winery tour. Make a reservation.
