ABOUT MARINA CVETIĆ

Marina Cvetić is Masciarelli's line of small-production, single-estate wines, named for the woman who has helped lead the winery since 1987. In 1991, Gianni Masciarelli named Montepulciano after his wife, a Serbian-born vintner, made from his best parcels and later grown into a full line. Made in far smaller volumes than the rest of the range, each wine is drawn from a curated set of parcels chosen to explore altitude, soil, and structure, built with complexity and aged to last.

THE WINE

The Montepulciano Marina Cvetić is an intense, remarkable expression of one of Abruzzo's historic vines. Sourced from eight of the estate's top parcels, it shows the heights Montepulciano can achieve with richness, depth, and balance. While Villa Gemma is Masciarelli's most famous Montepulciano, the only Italian wine to win the Tre Bicchieri award 14 times, many see Marina Cvetić as its equal in quality, differing only in style and often benefiting from a blend across varied altitudes and soils.

Vinous

"Supple and graceful, this starts off slowly on the palate, but the fine mesh of crushed raspberry and chopped cherry fruit, dried rosemary, paprika, white pepper and tar quickly gains momentum and amplified expression, enmeshed with firm, fine-grained tannins and refreshing acidity. Long and fragrant on the finish."
